NO. 12,108 42ND YEAR

COLORADO SPRINGS, COLO., FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1913—TWELVE PAGES.

PRICE FIVE CENTS

NO REASON WHY CITY SHOULD PAY PRICES OF COAL TRUST

Feasibility of Principal Mine Pointed Out by Thomas; Lignite Would Sell at $2.75 Per Ton, or Less

There is no reason why Colorado Springs consumers should pay more than $2.75 per ton at the outside for their lignite coal.

The difference between $2.75, which the people should pay, and $4.00, what they actually pay, for this coal, is the price Colorado Springs pays for the maintenance of the local coal trust.

Starting these figures? Perhaps. Especially when it is remembered that Colorado Springs consumes something like 500 tons of lignite per day throughout the year. As it costs $1.25 on each ton to maintain the coal trust, that would total during twelve months, $600,000. That is the total cost per year to the people of Colorado Springs for the local coal trust.

Of course these figures will be challenged immediately by the coal trust. The coal trust, indeed, has lately divulged elaborate figures to show that $4 is the least price at which coal can be sold with a profit to the local operators.

And perhaps the coal trust is right. It is not the purpose of this article to contradict the trust—only to show that $2.75 is as much as the people of Colorado Springs need pay for lignite coal.

Gives Facts and Figures.

And the man who makes the assertion that $2.75 is a fair price is no novice in the game. He is a man who for 30 years has actively mined coal in or near Colorado Springs, and who is now mining and selling at a less price than is charged by the trust. He is Thomas E. Thomas.

After 30 years' experience in mining coal in this vicinity, as miner, foreman, superintendent and independent operator, Mr. Thomas can claim more than a theoretical knowledge of the subject. And, according to him, the cost of the present price of $4, as charged by the coal trust, is a combination of several factors. First, the cost of the coal itself, which is about $1.25 per ton. Second, the cost of the transportation, which is about $1.00 per ton. Third, the cost of the handling, which is about $0.50 per ton. Fourth, the cost of the profit, which is about $1.25 per ton.

And how can Colorado Springs get coal at $2.75? Mr. Thomas the answer is easy. Let the city mine its own coal. There is no reason why it should not do so, he points out. The federal government mines coal in North Dakota and does it at a cost of only a little over $1 per ton for mine coal. Grand Junction has been granted permission by the secretary of the interior to lease coal lands near there for a municipal mine. Boulder has appointed a committee of three to investigate the subject of a municipal mine for that city. The Denver city council has just asked the public utilities commissioners to investigate municipal mining.

So, while the idea of a municipal coal mine is somewhat out of the usual line of thinking, it is not altogether unthought-of. And no city according to Mr. Thomas, is better situated to undertake a municipal mining enterprise than is Colorado Springs. With its easy distance of the city are two unwatered sections of state school lands, under both of which there is almost certain to be coal. On one quarter, indeed, there is an outcropping of lignite.

Mr. Thomas suggests that the city could have no difficulty in doing—and develop a municipal mine. But here he has his ideas on the subject.

Coal Property Near City.

"One of these quarters is only five or six miles east of the postoffice, in the Rock Island. There is coal on the land adjoining this section, and a depth of from 400 to 600 feet. It would cost but little to drill the land tones.

Every argument was used, every conceivable power and influence was invoked for Gardner and against Bird. The result is startling. Today, for the first time in history, the Republican party is the third party in Massachusetts.

The Progressive party is the only one with strength intact, and is the second party there. Only in Massachusetts was the contest clear cut. In New Jersey the Republican candidate staked his fortune on his advocacy of Roosevelt and his own assumed progressivism. The issue there was obscure. In Massachusetts there was no misunderstanding. The question was: Which party shall survive—the Republican or the Progressive? Massachusetts answered in no uncertain terms.

Had Unique System.

The porter was then directed to go through the sleeper ahead of the robber and was forced to make a search of the clothing of six passengers. By the time that had been accomplished, the train neared the Union Pacific bridge and the holdup man backed to the vestibule of the sleeper, after having signalled the engineer to stop. He jumped from the train on the Iowa side of the river and it was half an hour later that the police of this city and Council Bluffs were notified of the robbery.

Apparently lack of time was all that prevented the robber from making a big haul. His system was unique. He found the clothing while he looked on. The porter had an alternative but to make a thorough search and was forced to make last progress by the robber who held a large revolver in close proximity to his head during the whole time he was in the sleeper.

Porter Describes Robber.

The porter was able to give a good description of the robber but, although the police of the two cities were quickly at work searching for him, no trace had been secured up to an early hour this morning.

The robber selected an opportune time for his work. The train is in through one and every passenger in the sleeper had gone to bed when he boarded the car. The sleeping car conductor was in the car at the time. The work was well in order to get off the train before it reached the Missouri river bridge.

Every passenger in the car was up when the train reached Omaha but none could give any details of the robbery. Each passenger was forced to lay quiet in his berth while the porter went through his clothing for valuables.

It was not done so quietly that many of the sleeping passengers who had not been robbed knew nothing of the robbery until the masked man left the car.

LIND LEAVES CITY, REPORT

Object of Mission Not Known in Vera Cruz; Will Be Absent Several Days

SITUATION IS UNCHANGED

France Will Take No Initiative in Mediation; Mexicans Fear Conspiration

VERA CRUZ, Nov. 6.—John Lind, President Wilson's personal representative, accompanied by Capt. W. A. Burnside, military attaché of the American embassy in Mexico City, departed suddenly at 7:30 o'clock tonight, traveling in the direction of Mexico City. Mr. Lind declined to reveal the object of his visit. He said he probably would be absent for several days.

PARIS, Nov. 6.—Although no official denial has been issued regarding possible mediation by France between the United States and Mexico, inquiries at the foreign office today seemed to indicate that the situation has undergone a slight change since yesterday. It now appears that France will take no initiative in the matter, and will mediate only if Mexico sends a definite request and such action on the part of France is agreeable to the United States.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 6.—Unusual activity in recruiting has been displayed recently. So great has become the fear of conscription that Mexicans whose work forces them to be out after dark have begun to carry credentials showing they have steady employment. Many of the numberless classes have been drafted. More than 2,500 are reported to have been added to the army by conscription this week. It is said not even women are exempt, many having been forced to become "soldaderas" who accompany the "soldados" to look after them.

No Developments in Situation.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Word came from the White house today that no developments had occurred.

LONE BANDIT ROBS BURLINGTON TRAIN

Forces Pullman Car Porter to Extract Valuables and Makes Escape

OMAHA, Nov. 7 (Friday).—A lone highwayman boarded a sleeping car on Burlington train No. 2, westbound, just as it was leaving the transfer depot at Council Bluffs shortly after midnight, and held up the porter, robbed several sleeping car passengers and made his escape.

The robber is believed to have secured about $500 in money and five watches. He knocked at the vestibule door of the sleeper just as the train was leaving the station and the porter admitted him. Immediately, he covered the latter and relieved him of his money and a watch.

MISS CONFER POWLED OVER BY AUTOMOBILE

Young Woman Badly Injured When She Was Crossing Pikes Peak Avenue

Miss Dorothy Confer, stepdaughter of George Mason, 541 East Tenth street, was seriously injured yesterday morning when she was struck by an automobile driven by County Road Overseer W. P. Larabee. The accident occurred at the postoffice corner at 8:30 o'clock and was witnessed by a number of people.

Miss Confer's injuries consisted of two deep cuts in the scalp, a slight concussion of the brain and a fracture of the left shoulder blade. She was taken to St. Francis hospital, where, at a late hour last night, her injuries were reported serious, but not fatal.

Important Changes Made.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Amendments characterized by Chairman Owens as "altering the entire theory of the bill" were written into the administration currency measure today by a coalition of Republican and Democratic members.

MISS DOROTHY CONFER.

It is believed that she will recover. Miss Confer is bookkeeper for the G. H. Barnes & Son Hardware company.

Miss Confer was crossing the street toward the postoffice when the accident happened. Larabee was driving north on Nevada and had just turned to go east on Pike's Peak avenue. His statement of the accident is as follows:

We were coming up Nevada avenue to turn onto Pike's Peak avenue when Miss Confer came diagonally across the street from the direction of the Butcher drug store. I sounded the horn twice, but she did not stop and the machine skidded forward about 20 feet, striking Miss Confer. The front of the machine did not strike her, she walked into the side of it. We were going more than eight miles an hour. I picked her up and sent for a doctor and the ambulance was called. She was unconscious when I picked her up, but when the ambulance arrived she had regained consciousness.

I tried my best to keep from striking her, but I saw her in the distance and kept pulling toward the sidewalk and a warning light. She evidently did not see us at all and walked into the front of the machine.

Miss Confer was unable last night to make a statement of the affair. Larabee was accompanied in the auto by W. B. Rankin, state agent for the state home for dependent and neglected children, and his wife. The accident is the same as Larabee's.

DEMOCRATS IN ROW OVER THE CURRENCY ACT

Threaten to Put Schedule Through With Another "Gag Rule" Session

Government-Owned Bank Advocates Win; Other Side Disgusted

WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Democratic leaders in the senate decided today that unless the senate banking and currency committee promptly voted back into the administration currency bill some of the fundamentals that it had eliminated, they would call for the beginning of next week to consider the subject.

Telegrams were sent to absent Democrats, urging them to return to Washington at once. The senate committee had continued to make changes in the house bill to which supporters of the administration took exception, and a number of Democratic senators told President Wilson today that no progress would be made by permitting the house bill to be buffeted about in a committee wherein a coalition of Republicans and "insurgent" Democrats would alter the entire theory of the measure. It is not known what position the president took. Newspaper men who asked the president whether a caucus would be called were told by him it was a matter for the senate to decide.

It became known that four staunch administration supporters on the committee, Senators Owen, Hollis, Pomerehne and Shafroth, had been quietly working on a report they probably will submit to their Democratic colleagues. Senators Reed, O'Gorman and Hitchcock should the latter decline to sign it. It is believed the report will be submitted to the Democratic caucus or conference.

Unofficial Responsible.

Senators who insist upon some kind of party action, take the position that the Democratic party will be required to stand sponsor for whatever legislation is enacted that efforts to get a nonpartisan report means interminable discussion and wrangling on compromise that would seriously delay the passage of the bill and embarrass consideration of the remainder of the party program in regular session of congress.

Many senators still hope a change of sentiment will develop in the committee and an agreement will be reached before November 10, the date on which it had been expected a bill would be reported to the senate. President Wilson has not relaxed his determination to have the currency bill passed at the present session and many Democratic senators have indicated to him that they were restive under the delay and wished to make the bill a party measure.

Important Changes Made.

ANGLO-AMERICAN ALLIANCE STRONG

JAMES BRYCE SPEAKS OF FRIENDSHIP

Pilgrim Banquet in London

LONDON, Nov. 6.—A huge and distinguished gathering welcomed the Right Honorable James Bryce late British ambassador to Washington at the dinner given in his honor by the Pilgrims tonight. The American ambassador, Walter H. Page, read messages from the president of the United States, Joseph H. Choate, former ambassador at London, and others. President Wilson's message was as follows:

Few men have done more than James Bryce in strengthening the ties of friendship and brotherhood which unite England and America and have been the cause of common aspiration and high example to the whole world. The president of the Panama-Pacific international exposition, Charles C. Moore, called.

I still hope that the American and British flags will wave together in 1915.

Mr. Bryce began his speech by expressing the belief that the Panama exposition would be solved in a manner satisfactory to both countries.

A large part of Mr. Bryce's speech was devoted directly and indirectly to replying to criticisms made by the conservative press of his work as ambassador to a foreign country.

He said, he acted merely as the agent of his government and carried out the instructions of his government. The critics acted in ignorance because the only persons who knew what the ambassador was trying to do were officials of his foreign office and himself.

NO REASON WHY

quired by law, and equipping the mine with all the most modern machinery, including electric cutters, steam hoists and a modern dump. The remaining $25,000 certainly ought to cover the cost of a distributing system in the city.

Distribution System Wasteful.
"A large proportion of the cost of a ton of coal now goes to distribution. The system is wasteful. Each of the local companies has its force of clerks and officials at the town office. A municipal mine could feed but one of such—located in the city hall, at no additional cost for rent. The present coal is hauled from the mines to the city in wagons. That is wasteful. The wagons are with perhaps a few exceptions, not self-dumping. There is another waste, in the labor. There is only one electric truck and that means more waste.

"My idea would be for the city to have such an equipment that the coal could be handled from the mine to the consumer's home without being touched by hand. There would be enormous saving in this. Just how to get the coal from the mine to the city would have to be decided. The electric railway might build to the mine and haul the coal in self-dumping cars over its lines at night, in return for favorable rates on slack for its power plant. This would be a much more economical method than hauling in wagons. It might be that electric trucks could haul the coal in more cheaply than could be done in any other manner. That could be determined if it was decided to open a mine.

Figures on Mining Cost.
"Now as to the cost of mining. Mine run coal can be placed on the dump at the mine for $1.25 per ton, including the 10 cent royalty charged by the state. I have mined coal at considerably less than this figure, but at $1.25 the men could be paid union wages, and the mine could be equipped with every known safety device.

"At a liberal estimate, not more than 40 per cent of the mine run coal would be slack. This percentage of slack would have to be deducted from the total in order to find the cost of a ton of lump. Say that 40 per cent, then, is slack, and that this slack brings only 75 cents at the mine—and I am selling slack for more than that now. That would make the cost of the lump coal not over $1.75, at the most liberal possible estimate. And, with a modern distribution system, it would be plenty to cover the cost of haulage, of clerk and office expense, interest on the bonds and of a depreciation account.

"Of course, coal could not be sold at $2.75 if the city were mining only 25 or 30 tons per day. It would have to mine about 50 tons per day to make money at these figures. But certainly, if the city were to offer at $2.75 lump of equal quality with that now sold for $4 there would be no difficulty in getting the required tonnage.

M'GUIRE DENIES HENNESSY STORY

OMITS ATTEMPTING SUICIDE
IN INVESTIGATION

Says All He Wanted Was to Beat Tammany in Recent Election

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—George H. McGuire of Syracuse denied on the witness stand today he had furnished John A. Hennessy, former Governor of New York, with a list of construction firms which had been "handcuffed" into giving campaign contributions to Tammany Hall, as testified by Hennessy last week.

McGuire, who is a brother of James K. McGuire, former Democratic mayor of Syracuse, and with him a partner in the firm of McGuire & Co., engaged in bonding construction companies and in liability insurance, appeared as a witness in the John Doe proceeding instituted by District Attorney Whitman to investigate Hennessy's charges. After McGuire had sworn he had never specified to Hennessy a single instance of any construction company engaged in state highways or barge canal work having given up campaign contributions, he was withdrawn from the stand. Hennessy, taking his place, reiterated his statement and added he could prove it by others.

Wanted to Beat Tammany.
Hennessy said he had met McGuire in the latter's room in a hotel in Tulsa on September 12. He produced a list of firms he said McGuire had named to him as having made contributions. The list was written on the stationery of the hotel and Hennessy said he had taken it down in the presence of McGuire.

"McGuire wanted me to defeat Murphy," said Hennessy, "and said he wanted these revelations made. But he said he did not want it known he had told me anything on account of the affiliations of his brother."

District Attorney Whitman elicited from McGuire that his concern had been a large business in bonding the contractors of construction firms engaged in the state highway and barge canal work, and that McGuire, after having given $500 to Sulzer as a campaign contribution, had at Sulzer's request given $2,500 to Hennessy to enable the latter to pursue his investigations into the state highway department, after the governor's special appropriation had been cut off by the assembly. This was in September last, after the governor's impeachment.

Says Estimate is Correct.
"If there are some who think that I have not allowed enough for cost of delivery and interest on bonds, just remember that this $1 per ton for these expenses, on an output of 500 tons, would amount to $500 per day. Three-fourths of this, or $375, would maintain a mighty big delivery system, while the remainder, $125, would be ample sufficient to pay interest on bonds and clerk hire at the office. Interest on $100,000 at 5 per cent would be only $5,000 per year, or a little over $14 per day.

"Honestly and efficiently managed, I feel certain the city could sell coal even at $2.50 per ton, or, if the price were fixed at $2.75, apply an annual amount of coal mine earnings, toward reducing the city taxes. And don't forget that, if the city could sell coal here for $2.75, it could work up a big trade in Denver, Pueblo and other nearby cities and towns, so long as present high prices of coal continue."

City Would Make Good Profit.
"There could be no politics in the scheme, of course," said Mr. Thomas. "The city would have to employ a competent superintendent, and give him full authority to produce coal at the cheapest possible figure consistent with fair treatment of labor. But, with commission government and the civil service, I can see no reason why Colorado Springs should not be able to engage in the business profitably both to the city and to the coal consumers of the Pikes Peak region."

TROOPS DISCOVER HIGH-POWER RIFLES

Were Hidden in Cannon Niche Ludlow Colony; Will Continue Search

TRINIDAD, Nov. 6.—Three cases of high-powered rifles were discovered late tonight by the militia at the office of the Adams Express company consigned to a man named Roberts. They were taken to headquarters under guard.

The tags on the cases had been defaced and it was impossible to learn the first name of Roberts. All efforts to reach the agent who had the rifles in the safe have proved futile.

The seizure was conducted under the command of Majors Lee, Randolph and Goodman.

Shortly after midnight the detachment of cavalry on duty in the business district returned to the armory to be ready for any immediate call.

The armory is situated in the center of the business district. The cavalry will begin to patrol the streets again at daylight, according to orders from the military camp.

Patrol Trinidad Streets.
TRINIDAD, Nov. 6.—Owing to the fact that the strikers today started picketing in the city, and that citizens were intimidated when entering stores thought to be unfriendly to union labor, General Chase tonight detailed a troop of cavalry to patrol the streets with orders to see that no citizens were molested in any way.

Headquarters for the troops who will patrol the streets in the business district have been established in the armory.

Twenty-eight strikers left the headquarters and returned to work today. General Chase has ordered artillery practice for Saturday morning.

100 Rifles Found.
TRINIDAD, Nov. 6.—Nearly 100 high-powered rifles, believed to have been hidden away by strikers, were discovered in a canon above Ludlow and confiscated this afternoon by a detachment under Major Kennedy.

This is the largest number of firearms secured by the troops at one time. More weapons are believed to be hidden in the vicinity of Ludlow, and the militiamen will continue to search for them.

Adj. Gen. John Chase and Col. C. B. Carls, inspector general, left late tonight for Denver, where tomorrow they will attend a meeting of the military board. C. M. Fairchild, private secretary to Governor Ammons, who arrived here today to make an investigation, tonight received a message to return at once.

The work of inoculating the militia to render them immune from typhoid was completed today. Quiet prevailed throughout the district, and the operators declare that a few strikers are returning to work.

BANKERS ARRESTED
LITTLE ROCK, Ark., Nov. 6.—C. C. Stokely, vice president, and W. S. Groves, Adolph Kahn and Thomas Cotton, directors of the Valley Savings bank of Arkansas, Ark., which failed several months ago, were arrested today, charged with receiving deposits after insolvency. All were released on bond. They are prominent in Arkansas and Little Rock.

BARNES CONTENDS WERNER ELECTED

Republicans Not in Control of Lower Branch of the Legislature

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The election of William E. Werner, Republican, as chief judge of the court of appeals, was claimed tonight by William Barnes, Jr., Republican state chairman. Early returns had indicated a plurality for William Bartlett, Democratic-Independence League candidate.

Mr. Barnes conceded the Republicans had not elected a sufficient number to the assembly to control the lower house of the state legislature. They elected only 74 members, he said. A majority is 75.

Returns received by Chairman Barnes from 48 counties, most of them upstate, gave a plurality of 33,208 for Werner. In 12 counties, including all those comprising the city of New York, the plurality for Bartlett is 28,628, according to the chairman's figures, indicating Werner's election by 3,581.

Chairman Barnes claimed the two votes necessary to give the party control in the assembly would be secured from among 31 members of "complicated independence"—men whose election was brought about through coalition of Progressives with either the Republicans or the Democrats. He claims the Progressives elected only four assemblymen, and concedes the election of 41 Democrats.

ocratic members of the senate banking committee. The administration supporters in the committee were outvoted on all but one of the points settled today. Later, the talk of a caucus of Democrats to discipline the committee was revived. Notices were sent out summoning absent Democrats back to the senate chamber, but no definite call for a caucus was issued.

The committee voted into the bill today the following affirmative provisions: That the regional banks to administer the new currency scheme be capitalized by public subscription, the stock not taken by the public to be taken up by the member banks of the system.

Nine Directors to Control.
That each regional bank be controlled by nine directors, five to be named by the government through the federal reserve board and four to be chosen by the member banks.

That the new currency to be issued be treasury notes, obligations of the United States, loaned to the banks, and not bank notes guaranteed by the government. This sustains the provision of the administration bill as it is in the house.

That the new notes be redeemable in "gold" by the regional banks and the treasury, and not in "gold and lawful money," as provided by the administration bill.

With the exception of the proposal to increase the administration provision making the currency government notes, each amendment today split the Democratic side of the committee. Senators Reed and Hitchcock voted with the five Republicans to make the regional banks publicly owned and government controlled, as against the administration proposal for bank-owned and bank-controlled regional banks.

"On the proposal to eliminate the words 'lawful money' from the redemption clause of the bill, Senators O'Gorman, Reed and Hitchcock joined the Republicans, leaving only Senators Owen, Hollis, Pomeroy and Shafroth behind the administration provision.

Crawford Proposal Pending.
All of the Democrats, and Senator Crawford from the Republican side, voted to sustain the provision for treasury notes.

When the committee adjourned tonight there was pending a proposal advanced by Senator Crawford to allow the regional banks to do a general commercial banking business. The amendment adopted today, with Senator Crawford's amendment, Chairman Owen declared would "alter the entire theory of the bill."

"We started out," he said, "to write a bill which would provide a bank of banks, with the power of rediscount, and of issue, and which would mobilize the banking reserves. Now we have shifted about to a publicly owned, government controlled bank and it is proposed to let it do a general banking business in competition with the 25,000 banks throughout the country."

Senator Owen said as far as he knew no call had been issued for a Democratic caucus on the currency bill.

"If a caucus is called," he said, "I suppose it will be simply to find out what the committee is doing and why affirmative action has not been taken on the bill. It would be an advisory conference."

McCombs and Miss Dorothy Williams Will Wed Today
WASHINGTON, Nov. 6.—Friends of William F. McCombs, chairman of the Democratic national committee, received cable dispatches today announcing that he would be married in London tomorrow to Miss Dorothy Williams, a sister of Mrs. Joseph Letter.

The announcement was entirely unexpected and was a great surprise in diplomatic and military social circles, in which the bride-to-be is prominent. It caused no less of a stir in political circles.

Miss Williams left Washington some time ago aboard the yacht Niagara as Mrs. Letter's guest, on a trip around the world. The Niagara is now at Fremantle, Australia for Mr. Letter to join the party.

Mr. McCombs has been abroad since almost immediately after election to get a rest. He is the most prominent possibility for ambassador to France to succeed Myron T. Herrick.

The chairman has once declined the place, but reconsidered at President Wilson's personal request, and since he has been abroad the post has been held open for him with the general understanding in official circles that he eventually would accept it when he got his business affairs and law practice in condition for his absence.

JEROME AGAIN ASKS THAW'S EXTRADITION
CONCORD, N. H., Nov. 6. A new petition for the extradition of Harry K. Thaw was filed tonight by William Thaw's Jerome, deputy attorney general for New York. This step was taken because of an error in the petition filed last week which placed the indictment in New York county for the alleged crime of conspiracy "committed in Dutchess county."

Governor Parker announced he would give his decision on Saturday on the demand for extradition.

He said he would consult with Attorney General Tuttle tomorrow on various phases of the case.

FERRIS' PAINTINGS
AT CONGRESS HALL

Famous Artist, Well Known
Here, Has Important Collection on View

An art exhibition of interest to people of Colorado Springs because it is being promoted by J. L. G. Ferris, is now being held in Congress hall, Philadelphia. Mr. Ferris, who is looked upon as America's greatest historical painter, was a visitor in Colorado Springs two summers ago, and waxed enthusiastic at that time over the historical importance of the State. Five months in progress during his visit, which was in progress during his visit,
Mr. Ferris and Henry Russell Wray were friends years ago when both were youths in Philadelphia.

The art exhibition which is one of the features of the opening of the restored Congress hall, for which event President Wilson made the dedicatory speech, is composed of pictures
by Mr. Ferris and Clyde O. DeLand, who is also a celebrated artist. The pictures are to be on exhibition for a month and may be purchased by the city of Philadelphia for permanent adornment for the old historical Congress hall. The Philadelphia Bulletin has the following to say of the artist and his work:

Pictures Historically Important.
"Gerome Ferris and Clyde O. De-Land are two Philadelphia painters who, during almost all of their working years, have been attracted by the possibilities of their own country's history as a mine of paintable material.
The 47 canvases which they have looted, depict some of the incidents that loom impressively in the annals of the nation. The collection is so complete that by arranging the pictures in chronological order it is possible to present a new and fairly enlightening review of the incidents that already have been dealt with by historians and poets.

"The 47 canvases loaned by Mr.
Ferris have been collected during 16 years of work along this one line.
Mr. DeLand has 11 pictures in the exhibition. Neither of the artists apparently has been swayed by the fads that have so grievously shaken a large part of the art world in recent years.
They have painted with a sincere regard for old-fashioned draughtsmen-ship, a good eye for the color possibilities of the earlier period and with simple and happy poetic insight in many instances.

True in Every Detail.

"Any school boy or girl must have a clearer vision of the old heroes and heroines after a visit to the unique display. The most scrupulous fidelity to details of costume and environment and to historic data have been observed by the painters who at the same time have refrained from making their canvases mere documents.

"The first painting on the line shows the fleet of Columbus in the sunset light of the eve of discovery. In regular succession all of the other great figures follow. The final canvas, in a collection which Mr. Ferris says is yet to be rounded out, shows the surrender of Lee. Few of the men and women who had a part in the making of history and tradition have been sighted in the unique chronicle. Each scene as it is presented is one that is more or less familiar to the average schoolboy but a tour before the canvases brings a new realization of the color and charm of the traditions already available to the youngest of the great nations. The pupils of the schools will find none of their heroes or heroines neglected. Pocahontas and Minnehaha as well as Peggy Shippen, Molly Pitcher and Nellie Custis have been fitted into a color story such as never may be adequately told by the movies."

Collected data on Indians.

"During his stay in Colorado Springs
Mr. Ferris was a frequent visitor among the Indians and especially at the tent of Buckskin Charley, the surviving chief of all the Utes, and therefore an important figure in western history. On one occasion Mr. Ferris took two old flintlocks that he had picked up here to Buckskin Charley with the expectation that the old chief could decipher the legend of the weapons as told in silver mountings and notches along the stock. He was not impressed with the part Buckskin Charley has played in the early story of the west, and it is probable that Indian data gathered at that time will be used later by the noted painter in canvases depicting historical events.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—After losing self unable to pay it, Joseph Cohen, a fur importer's clerk, pilfered the amount from his firm's safe, accord-police today, and then locked himself in a trunk in an effort to stage a robbery scene in which he was to play the role of victim. A member of the firm who rescued Cohen from the trunk thought it strange that the "thieves" left behind $75,000 worth of furs, and had Cohen arrested. Cohen, it is said, then confessed.

M'MANIGAL SOON

Already Out of Prison on Account "Poor Health,"
Says Fredericks

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 6.—(The E.
McManigal, the confessed dynamiter, who implicated the McNamara brothers and gave damaging evidence against other labor union leaders, will be formally freed soon, according to a statement made today by John D.
Fredericks, district attorney, who Monday had ordered the informer's release from the county jail because of the prisoner's "poor health."
Fredericks said the reports that Mc-Manigal was fleeing secretly from the country, to avoid old associates was unfair to the state and to the informer's old associates as well.
"By his confession," said Fredericks,
"McManigal placed himself under the

no one imagine it is not a strong arm.
The two and a half years McManigal has been imprisoned have improved his

Those who had any doubt about the press dispatches from Mexico City describing the latest representations made to Huerta, had the situation clarified for them by an extent today by the administration. From the White house it was known that the views of the United States upon the recent election in Mexico were set forth in a cablegram to Nelson O'Shaughnessy, the charge d'affaires, of the American embassy at Mexico City. This cablegram contained certain "instructions."
The nature of the instructions was not divulged by the officials. It was recalled that when the negotiations began with the Huerta government, no formal note was presented, but "instructions" were given John Lind. In this way formal recognition of the Huerta government was avoided.

Whole Election Invalid.

From the way White house officials discussed the situation, there existed no doubt in official circles tonight that the instructions to Mr. O'Shaughnessy to convey the desires of the United States to General Huerta were substantially as outlined in dispatches from Mexico City last Monday, although the state department's denial that any "ultimatum" had been sent was regarded by many conversant with the situation as indicating that the United States government in its communication to Mr. O'Shaughnessy did not necessarily mean that it had said its last word.

It became evident at the White house that the president considered the elections of October 20 not only invalid as to the vote on the presidency and vice presidency, but also as to the election of members of congress.
The news dispatches indicated today
General Huerta would convene the generally elected congress and abide by their decision as to the legality of the elections.

Await Word From Huerta.

This was generally looked upon here as showing an intention on the part of General Huerta to have the election nullified while he continued in power indefinitely.

The president made it plain to callers he had no intention at present of placing the subject before congress. He is in close touch with the capitol through Chairman Bacon of the senate foreign relations committee.

It is not regarded as likely that the president will make any move until he hears from General Huerta through Charge O'Shaughnessy. Although press dispatches have indicated General Huerta would refuse to resign, it was said nothing along this line of a definite character had been officially received. The president in discussing the situation spoke of the loyal attitude of Charge O'Shaughnessy.

Alternative Measures Discussed.

Alternative measures that the United States might take in event of a rejection by Huerta of the American demands were discussed today in official circles. Attention centered on the proposal to remove the embargo on arms. The president indicated nothing had been determined upon in this connection. In his recent address, to congress he took a strong position against giving arms to any faction.
Members of congress, and especially many of the senate foreign relations committee, think the embargo should be lifted and that the constitutionalists would then be able by force of arms to oust Huerta. This opinion is being strongly urged upon President Wilson and Secretary Bryan, but there is no outward indication that they have changed their attitude.

At the White house, it was stated no envoys had been sent to the border for the government to discuss the situation with General Carranza. Dr.
Henry Allen Tupper, according to Secretary Bryan, is not representing Carranza in any negotiations with the United States, but is giving his own interpretation of the situation. Con-stitutionalists, however, continued to deny knowledge of alleged parleys between General Carranza and representatives of the American government.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—The first definite move for a permanent organization of Democrats in opposition to Tammany hall was made tonight, when the executive committee of the Anti-Tammany Jeffersonian alliance decided to take steps to make the alliance a permanent political body. The name of the organization probably will be changed.

The alliance was formed and the present name adopted merely for the purpose of the recent city election.
Eight independent Democratic organizations united in the movement. The casting of 25,000 votes under its emblem convinced the leaders, Chairman Bert Hanson said, that the party should be continued and enlarged.

C., that they have erected a dairy barn and milk room on the grounds of the local school in order that the children may learn dairying as a regular part of their school work. Accommodations have been provided for 5 cows. Boys and girls of the 7th and the 8th grades are studying the best methods of dairying under the direction of an extension worker from Clemson Agricultural college.

Y. W. C. A.

thoroughness, provided tea that was just so and sandwiches that were still "more so," has been a charming hostess all during the gatherings of the campaign. When the general jubilation meeting was held in the common room of the new building last evening, Mrs. Harriet P. Farnsworth poured tea for Mrs. Williamson and Miss Addie Hemenway, Mrs. Norman M. Campbell, Mrs. Williamson and others served. Mrs. Franklin E. Brooks, chairman of the finance committee, who has untiringly labored in the cause during the strenuous 10 days, made a few remarks last evening in gratitude to her fellow-workers to the Y. W. C. A.'s friends all over the city, and to the two western field secretaries, Miss Inez Kinney and Miss Frances Cross, whose collaboration with the association during the campaign has been of inestimable value. Miss Ellen T. Brinley, president of the association, followed Mrs. Brooks in expressing her happiness and gratification over the outcome of the campaign, and spoke particularly of the faithfulness of Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. Kinney, Miss Cross, Miss Holmes, Miss Gregg and other officers of the campaign.

Outside Workers Surprised.

Miss Frances Cross, city secretary of the western field, expressed the great pleasure of Miss Kinney and herself at having been a part of the campaign, and stated frankly that in all her wide experience with finance campaigns she had never known an association that had so many friends who were cheerful givers as has the Young Women's Christian association of Colorado Springs.

Not for another year will the association have to ask for assistance financially, and the years go by, the fund will be less and less that will call for voluntary gift on the part of business men and citizens.

Miss Brinley and Mrs. Brooks issued the following statement last night concerning the campaign which closed so successfully:

The board of managers of the Young Women's Christian association wishes to give public expression of its thanks to the many friends who have rendered the association generous service during the last 10 days. The committee of 40 women who have had in charge the campaign for funds have worked faithfully, tirelessly and wisely, and to them, first of all, are due the thanks of the association. But for their diligence and devotion, the result would have been impossible of accomplishment.

But their work would have been trying and difficult had it not been for the cordial reception and the ready response with which they were met on every side, evincing a spirit of sympathy with the work of the association which promises much for its usefulness and success. The managers would gladly express to each one of the contributors individually their appreciation of the generosity, and in many cases the self-sacrifice, of their friends. But as that is impossible, they gladly take this opportunity to thank them, one and all.

Committee Members Grateful.

The committee would not have had the courage to ask the assistance of the public except for their belief in the work of the association and its value to the women of the city, and they have been rejoiced to find not only many friends who have shown their confidence by substantial contributions, but many more who, though unable to give money, have responded with words of genuine and sympathetic interest.

The press has been extremely generous of space, and their cordial cooperation has done much toward forwarding the campaign. To The Gazette and the Evening Telegraph the association extends hearty thanks.

But work has been greatly facilitated by the presence and active assistance of the field secretaries of the National Y. W. C. A. Their services have been invaluable in organizing the campaign, in assisting the workers and in pointing out the higher ideals of association work. And we thank them for their faithful and cheerful service.

It was necessary this year to call for an unusual sum of money to meet extraordinary expenses, and it is a great gratification to the managers and the committee to have been able to raise the sum of $6,000 in a day less than the allotted time. The association will, thanks to the support of the public, be able to begin its new year in its new building, with high hopes of realizing its ideal—that it may have possibilities of usefulness to all the women of Colorado Springs; that it may be a benefit and an inspiration to many wage-earning girls, that no girl can be so poor or so friendless as to be barred from its privileges.

ELLEN T. BRINLEY, President.

SARAH COOLIDGE BROOKS, Chairman Campaign Committee

Millions of bottles of this old, famous Sage Tea Recipe are sold annually, says a well-known druggist here, because it darkens the hair so naturally and evenly that no one can tell it has been applied.

Those whose hair is turning gray, becoming faded, dry, scraggly and thin have a surprise awaiting them, because after one or two applications the gray hair vanishes and your locks become luxuriantly dark and beautiful—all dandruff goes, scalp itching and falling hair stops.

This is the age of youth. Gray-haired, unattractive folks aren't wanted around, so get busy with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur tonight and you'll be delighted with your dark, handsome hair and your youthful appearance within a few days. Adv.

BIG EATERS GET KIDNEY TROUBLE

TAKE SALTS AT FIRST SIGN OF BLADDER IRRITATION OR PAIN

The American men and women must guard constantly against kidney trouble, because we eat too much and all our food is rich. Our blood is filled with uric acid which the kidneys strive to filter out. They weaken from overwork, become sluggish; the eliminative tissues clog and the result is kidney trouble, bladder weakness and a general decline in health.

When your kidneys feel like lumps of lead; your back hurts or the urine is cloudy, full of sediment or you are obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night; if you suffer with sick headache or dizziness, nervous spells, acid stomach, or you have rheumatism when the weather is bad, get from your pharmacist about four ounces of Vad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to flush and stimulate clogged kidneys; to neutralize the acids in the urine so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder disorders.

Vad Salts is inexpensive; cannot injure, makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water beverage, and belongs in every home, because nobody can make a mistake by having a good kidney flushing any time. Adv.

FOOTBALL NOW CENTER STAGE TEAMS PREPARE FOR BATTLES

Tigers, Light Signal Practice Today to End Heavy Training for Mines Game Tomorrow at Denver

Midseason football in the Rocky Mountain conference reaches its climax tomorrow at Union park, Denver, when the two evenly matched elevens from the School of Mines and Colorado college will meet. It will be a spectacular battle between teams using somewhat similar tactics and will go a long way toward deciding the championship of the conference. The Tigers will go into the game handicapped by the absence of Kramer, star end, while Wolf will be missing from the Mines ranks, according to word last night.

Last year the Tigers lost by the score of 17 to 7, due largely to the inability of the defense to stop the shift play. In 1911, the Tigers won handsily by a 11 to 0 score, due to brilliant open field work of Vandemoer and to forward passes.

So far the Mines have the best chance at the championship. According to word received by The Gazette last night, the Blue eleven has a few men on the hospital list but is sending out no bear stories about the team. Word that Stringham would be in to do the kicking was denied last night by the management of the Mines eleven.

The Tigers will go into the game with the weight advantage, as is seen in the table of lineups. However, the experience will be with the Golden lads, and the advantage of having won some decisive victories in the conference. The Mines beat out Utah, 7 to 0, and claimed they should have won by three touchdowns. The Tigers have not yet registered a victory in the conference, although they outplayed the Utah eleven and held the strong Boulder team to a scoreless tie.

Last night the Black and Gold team went through its last scrimmage practice. Kramer will not be in the game and Taylor will be at his end. Cheese and Rice are alternating at Taylor's half. Koch, the big guard, is improving and probably will be in the Mines game.

The scrimmage this week at Washburn field has been to stop the Mines shift. If this is done, the Tigers should win, because Claybaugh can outpunt DeLaitre, and the Tigers' offense is good and the defense stronger than for years.

PUNTING HARVARD FACTOR
COLUMBIAN, Mass., Nov. 6.—Harvard's practice for the game with Princeton today gave his football squad its last practice in preparation for the Saturday game against Nebraska Wesleyan.

INDIANA OFF FOR IOWA

BLOOMINGTON, Ind., Nov. 6.—Indiana University's football squad, composed of 25 men, departed tonight for Iowa City where the Hoosiers will play the Iowa university team Saturday.

PRINCETON FINISHES ITS DRILL FOR HARVARD

PRINCETON, N. J., Nov. 6.—Light signal drill and practice at forming interference on kicks constituted the workout for the Princeton varsity football eleven today. Law's punts averaged 50 yards and he sent them away fast.

PENN'S STAR CENTER OUT

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—Walter Simpson, star center of the University of Pennsylvania football team, probably will be unable to line up against Dartmouth Saturday. His left eye, which was injured in the practice against the scrubs yesterday, was badly swollen today and physicians stated he would be unable to see well enough to play for several days.

NAVY HAS SECRET WORK

ANNAPOLIS, Md., Nov. 6.—Secret practice was begun by the Navy football team this afternoon. A number of new trick plays may be seen in the Bucknell game Saturday.

YALE SPEEDING UP

NEW HAVEN, Nov. 6.—Yale's rejuvenated football team, driven at full speed today, tore through the strongest scrum team available for three touchdowns in 15 minutes of actual play. The varsity did not once lose the ball. The offense was the best shown this year.

OHIO LEAVES FOR WISCONSIN

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 6.—Twenty-five members of the Ohio State university football squad left tonight for Madison, Wis., where they will meet the University of Wisconsin team Saturday. The game will be Ohio's second western conference contest.

JINX AT NORTHWESTERN; ANOTHER MAN IS OUT

EVANSTON, Ill., Nov. 6.—The Northwestern university eleven lost another man today when Mortensen, who has played tackle in several games, was taken to the hospital suffering from blood poison. Reeman, the 115-pound quarter, will be used Saturday against Chicago if Hightower and Reed are not in condition.

AMERICAN LEAGUE FAVORS PRESENT FORM OF SERIES

No Trades Planned? May Shift in Schedule if Nationals Will Conform: "Frat" Demands Are Considered.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—The American league in its brief annual meeting today voted unanimously against the proposal to substitute a series of inter-league series for the world's series as now played, discussed in connection with the demands of the Players' Federation and pronounced several of the proposals "unacceptable" and appointed a committee to consider revision of the rules of the league. The meeting disposed of several routine matters, including the resolution of Charles W. Somers, president of the Cleveland club, as vice president of the league. A new board of directors consisting of the presidents of the clubs at St. Louis, Detroit, Washington and Philadelphia was elected, these four succeeding the four presidents of the other clubs.

No trades were announced and managers present said they had not talked trade at the session, or after it. Manager Birmingham declared his team would remain intact, thus disposing of reported attempts by the Cleveland club to secure one of the Cleveland outfielders. Robert McRoy said Cady probably would remain with Boston, though the club has one superfluous catcher.

The league will suggest the shortening of the playing season by starting it on April 14 and ending it October 7. The dates, however, depend on agreement by the National league. The date set for the schedule meeting was not announced.

Not a dissenting voice was heard when President Johnson proposed the league go on record as favoring the world's series between the two big league pennant winners. This plan brought up recently by August Herrmann, chairman of the national commission, would have provided that every team in one circuit play every team in the other. Continued success of the American league team in the world's series was a factor in determining the unanimous support the old plan was accorded.

It was specified that the talk on the players' "demand" was strictly informal. The league received no official list of demands from President Felt of the Federation, but a series of reforms the players had drawn up had been sent to every club owner by the national commission and these were gone over in an open session. The proposed abandonment of the "reserve rule" which defenders of organized baseball say is vital to its existence, nearly found no champion at the meeting, but it was indicated that the players would be granted some of their demands.

President Johnson, Vice President

TERRORS ON ROAD TO STATE TITLE

The lads in Brown and White, working under the tutelage of Coach Ackers, are plying for tomorrow's contest with Sacred Heart, which will be played on Washburn field. The team is in good shape and will present the strongest lineup of the season. Coach Ackers has been working his team hard during the last few days for the battle with the Catholics, which should be the best interscholastic contest of the season for local fans.

The Denver team is heavy and tricky and is a little out of the Terrors' class as far as age is concerned. The baseball teams sent out by the colleges are ranked with the conference ones and if the locals succeed in winning again it will be one of the big feats of the season.

Without a defeat from the hands of an interscholastic eleven, the Terrors present the one best bet for the state title. The Boulder Prep eleven, coming here November 15, have easily defeated all other high school elevens in the northern part of the state. The team is practically the same weight as the Terrors and uses the new styles of play.

Somers and Manager Mack of the Philadelphia club, were appointed representatives to meet with three National league representatives and managers and umpires of both leagues to go over the rules. Few of the rules will be materially changed, but some minor alterations may be made. The meeting probably will be held in December.

Martin Krug, an infielder, was sold by the Boston Americans to the Omaha Western league club. Krug was with Indianapolis last year.

Reform School Athletes to Compete in U. C. Meet

SACRAMENTO, Cal., Nov. 6.—Athletes of the state's two reform schools, Whittier and the Preston Republic at Iona will meet high school track and field men on equal terms next year in the annual high school field day at the University of California.

Announcement of the plan was made today at the conclusion of a conference of university and reform school authorities.

Detroit has appropriated $5,000 for school dental inspection and clinics in 1913-14.

Tigers Outweigh Mines Diggers Eleven Is Light

CARNEY, DENVER BILLIARD PLAYER, TIES WITH CHAMP

Sensational Work of Westerner Even Up Things With De Oro in Title Match.

NEW YORK, Nov. 6.—Joseph Carney of Denver outplayed Alfred De Oro, the three-cushion billiard champion, in the second block of their match for the title here tonight, by a score of 63 to 24. Last night's block resulted in a victory for De Oro by 50 to 37 and with tonight's tally the score now stands Carney, 100; De Oro, 84.

In the twenty-eighth of the westerner caught the champion, the total being 64 each. Carney passed De Oro in the thirtieth inning, when the score stood 66 to 65, and from then on, did not relinquish the lead.

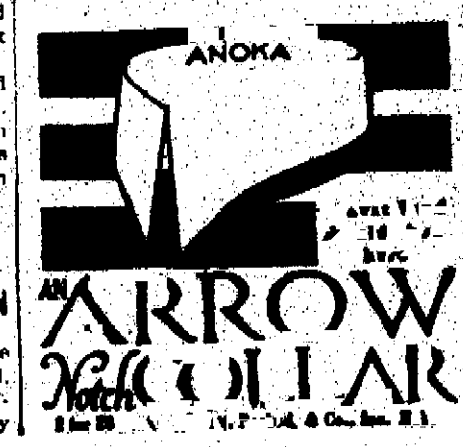

Carney played a steady game and his bank shots were nicely calculated. His high run of seven in the eleventh inning was the best string made thus far in the match. De Oro's best run tonight was three.

MICHIGAN OFF TO GAME WITH CORNELL ELEVEN

ANN ARBOR, Mich., Nov. 6.—The University of Michigan football squad, two dozen strong, left tonight for Ithaca, N. Y., where the team will play Cornell Saturday.

U. C. SHOULD WIN FROM WEAKENED UTAH TEAM

The University of Colorado football squad left Boulder yesterday for Salt Lake City, where they will meet the University of Utah eleven tomorrow. The state team was more frightened than hurt in the game with the Tigers last week and will present a good, husky lineup against the weakened Mormons. The Utah eleven is minus five star players, ruled out by the faculty for failure to study. With such an advantage and with a big advantage in weight, the Boulder team should win from the Mormons. Naigson and McCutcher will probably arrange a punting duel, but the Colorado man should have the best of it. Should the Utah team win it will practically eliminate Boulder from the conference title claims.

Just a Cloakroom Girl

—but who has New York sized up as a Gigantic Bluff. Sixteen-Year-Old Attendant at a Broadway Hotel Tells Some Inside Facts About Haughty Dinars. Why She is a Cynic.

from the New York Times.

McCracken, do you know what the cloakroom girl thinks of you when you "graciously" hand her a tip and receive the more or less costly garment you left in her keeping an hour or two ago? You think of her as a respectful "want, as she bows and smiles her thanks; but what does she think of you as you stroll languidly out of the hotel? And you, Monsieur, who march grandly out into the cloakroom at the end of your five dollar coat and magnificently display your clo'es, your diamonds and your feminine flock; do you know what the "graciously" cloakroom girl thinks of you? It is better to your "as of mind that you do not for man cannot hear comfortably the contempt of his species.

How She Sold Her Picture.

Her name is Edna Violet Oster and she is not yet 16 years old. She came here from England, where she lived first at Bristol and afterwards for a while in London. She thought she could be an artist, and she used to take her little drawing board and go out into the country and sketch.

But always she dreamed of America and of the big fortunes that could be made over here; and she believed that if she could take that little drawing board over to this country fame and fortune would be hers in no time, and she could pick up money from the capitalists.

When Edna Violet Oster—a mighty pretty girl, tall for her age, graceful in deportment, and with a manner—landed here she tried to make a living out of art.

Then, being a discerning girl, Edna quit the art business after one melancholy month and got a job as a cloakroom girl in a Broadway hotel. In a little while she was advanced to be captain of the cloakroom girls, and now she has got all Broadway working for her—and she not yet 16.

How? Why, because she knows a girl in the dressing room, and when ever chum waits on a female customer she exhibits one of the little paintings Edna Violet has made and offers them to her and gets $5 apiece for them.

Yes; $5 apiece for the things that a few months ago Edna was selling for 20 cents a dozen.

"It's not hard when you know how," she said. "Even the down and outer doesn't have to become a white slave if she has any brains."

"In a nutshell, what do you think of Broadway?" she was asked.

"That it's a big bluff," responded Miss Oster. "I have not only been over from England a little while, but I think I've sized up Broadway. It's all in the show window. It's a dicky on a dress suit.

"Why you wouldn't believe some of the experiences we cloakroom girls have to go through with. You wouldn't imagine that a woman coming down to dine at this hotel with a man in a fur coat and all kinds of diamonds, would try to impress a cloakroom with her importance, but she does, and she reports to all kinds of tricks to do it.

Tricks of the Purse-Proud.

"One of the commonest is to pretend that she has a hole in her stocking, so that all the dressing room attendants can gather around and investigate. It is all done so that she can show the fact that she has a golden garter or that there is a big roll of bills stuffed in her stocking, and deliver much talk about the value of the garter and how she came to get it.

"Another favorite trick is to lose your handkerchief. You drop it down your neck and then give a scream. All the girls in the dressing room promptly rush to the rescue. While they are trying to expose your person to find the necklace you produce much conversation about how immensely valuable it is and what other jewels you have at home. Finally they get it for you and you, all out, firmly convinced that you have made a great impression on the dressing room girls.

"All New York wants to be thought rich," she continued. "This is the Town of the Gigantic Bluff. Take the men who come in here. Each man has usually got a troop in his train. He walks in at the head of the troop as if he were Hannibal or Alexander the Great, with his diamond ring ostentatiously flashing, and he never hands the cloakroom girl less than a dollar. Next day he sneaks in I see him, don't forget it, with his diamond ring turned wrong side out, and he doesn't even tip me a nickel."

Tells Her Their Secrets.

The reporter inquired to what extent the guests made confidants of the cloakroom attendants.

"I hate to tell you, because you won't believe it," said the girl, "but the fact is that they make confidants of us just as I suppose men do of bartenders.

"Do you know that the cloakroom girls are continually being held up for loans?"

"What for? Anything from a quarter to $5, and usually by women whose appearance would indicate ready money."

"I remember especially one girl who

GERMAN WARSHIPS ON 'TEST' VOYAGE

BERLIN, Nov. 6.—The newest German warships, Kaiser and Koening Albert and the cruiser Strassburg have been ordered to leave early in December for South America waters. The cruise is said to be merely a "test voyage," but the warships, as pointed out in the newspapers here, will evidently be available for service on the Mexican coast if it should prove necessary.

German naval circles regard the South American cruise as patent evidence that Anglo-German tension is disappearing, as this is the first time German battleships have been detached from the North sea fleet since the naval rivalry between Germany and Great Britain became acute.

'MAD KING OTTO' OF BAVARIA DETHRONED

MUNICH, Bavaria, Nov. 6.—The insane King Otto of Bavaria was deposed today from the throne of the Kingdom of Bavaria, which he has occupied for 27 years without being aware of his position. Prince Regent Ludwig proclaimed himself king in pursuance of the provision of a law just enacted by the two houses of the Bavarian diet. The new king is to be known as Ludwig III. He probably will take the constitutional oath on November 8.

PREELECTION HOSTILITIES FINALLY REACH CLIMAX

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Preelection hostilities in Boston between Representative Thomas G. Blinn and James E. Maguire, a newspaper editor, were resumed when the two men met on the street today. When the argument was ended Maguire was taken to a hospital to be treated for a fractured skull and the police began a search for Blinn, who was defeated for reelection Tuesday.

came in here with a golden mesh bag and diamonds sticking out all over her and begged me pitifully for a loan of a dollar, saying that she was absolutely down and out.

"I gave it to her. Since then she often comes into the hotel and tips me a dollar haughtily and languidly, with the air of never having seen me before. Times have changed with her. Or course I never refer to it, and am always abjectly thankful for the dollar.

Furnishes Them Cigarettes.

"In one drawer of the little dressing table we keep cigarettes of every kind. Handing those out is one of the best things we do. It's funny to see how the women come slipping into the dressing room, obviously dying for a smoke, and how their faces light up when we trot one out. Of course, that's more in another department than mine. And, by the way, when one of them comes in and asks for the loan of a couple of dollars, I always ask her to step into the dressing room. I have learned that much about New York; I think there is a western expression describing it, called "passing the buck."

"I'll tell you, New York is the Town of the Gigantic Bluff, and nobody knows it as well as the cloakroom girl.

A Bit of Feminine Malice.

"After a Vanderbilt cup race or a polo game or a Yale-Harvard football game, you wouldn't believe the number of people who come here with medals pinned all over them and try to give the impression that they have been to the game or the race, when they haven't been anywhere except up in a flat waiting for the iceman or the man from the delicatessen store."

Miss Oster is a very engaging sort of girl despite the apparent cynicism that may be deduced from her comments. She really takes a keen joy in the joy of a healthy, fresh, unspoiled girl, in the revelations of life that are being daily portrayed for her, and she is as natural and wholesome a girl as one could wish to meet.

But there is a little streak of feminine malice in her composition which came out when she was asked if people who failed to tip ever had the nerve to come back again.

"Yes," she said vindictively, "and when they do I get square with them."

"How do you get square with them?" asked the reporter.

"I hang their coats on either No. 13 or 23," she said savagely.

TEXAS, WORLD'S GREATEST BATTLESHIP, SUCCESSFUL IN TEST.

In the new battleship Texas, whose trials at Rockland, Me., have interested the world, Uncle Sam has the greatest battleship afloat. This photograph shows her in the trial in which she went faster than the government requirement of the contractors. That was after engine trouble had delayed her heat efforts.

The Texas went over the measured mile course three times each at ten, twelve, fifteen, seventeen knots. She was manned by 350 men from the yards of the builders at Newport News.

The navigating officer was Captain A. G. Melvin, who had with him Captain A. W. Grant, who will command the Texas when she is turned over to the government.

The Texas is today the most powerful battleship afloat. The distinguishing feature is the battery of ten four-teen-inch guns placed in five turrets, three forward and two aft, all on a central line, so arranged as to fire over one another. The Texas is eleven feet longer than any battleship in the United States navy, being 573 feet over all. Her beam is 95 feet 4 1/2 inches, which will give her almost fifteen feet leeway in passing through the Panama canal locks. Her draught of 22 1/2 feet will enable her to enter at least four of the Atlantic navy yards and one on the Pacific coast.
